Respected Retired and in service executives and other officer members

My formal and informal discussion with all current and retired Trade union leaders indicated three points.

1. Arguments are genuine and we deserve to get the salary equivalent to grade A Officers as per the formula of CPC.
2. But, Bank officers will not be given, because, no body raise voice in uniform in Banking sector.

Because,

- A. Employees are not aware
- B. Executives don't care

3. So, the leaders cannot take forward.

I really wonder that the above remarks are true and so we are not going to get the increase we deserve.

When Government employees have got 54% increase in sixth CPC as a correction of their deteriorating wages, bank officers are not even ready to believe or dream that it can happen to them.

The Code of wages bill 2017 says that the cost of superannuation shall be delinked from the wage revision which very well pave the way for demanding Updation of pension.

But everybody admits that they did not read Code of wages bill.

We can understand any text but unable to understand the silence of bank officers to express even after the retirement.

Is it not possible for you to disseminate to all the friends in Banking sector with your genuine comments which may motivate them also to join?

If we are silent this time, it will be never because the very fabric of Banking sector will be torn before next wage revision.

Kindly read and offer your views and comments and if you are satisfied with the arguments, be ready for atleast demanding.
